

One-Day Training for Contractors, Property Owners, and Homeowners

LEAD SAFE Building Maintenance Practices

HUD Approved • Satisfies NJ mandated property maintenance code requirements for Lead Safe Building Maintenance Practices for multiple Dwelling property owners, maintenance workers, and contractors. Important information for anyone who may disturb lead-based paint

If you perform maintenance and/or repair work on residential properties, there are some important work practices you need to know about working with lead-based paint. LEW Corporation, in conjunction with the Central NJ Maternal and Child Health Consortium, is presenting a FREE one-day training course on Lead Safe Building Maintenance Practices. If you are a multiple dwelling (3 or more units) property owner, this training will satisfy the New Jersey Multiple Dwelling Property Maintenance Code (N.J.A.C. 5:10). This code requires all persons, including property owners, maintenance staff, and contractors, who perform maintenance or repair work on pre-1978 housing to be certified in Lead Safe Building Maintenance Practices. In addition, this course includes the required training to complete the mandatory dust wipe clearance test after performing maintenance activities that disturb lead-based paint.

All courses are scheduled from 8:00am to 4:30pm
Please register to guarantee placement

Course Features:
Continental Breakfast and Lunch included
Certificate of Completion issued to those who pass the course test
