FLAT CREEK

These stagnant, trash filled ponds could be retrofitted into a series of off line detention basins to help control flooding and improve water quality. Part of the solution to preventing flooding at the Rte. 36 bridge, between Hemmingway Dr. and Rte. 36, (that is directly related to ongoing upstream development) is to use existing off line ponds in the greenway to hold flood waters, and release the water behind the flood peak of the main channel.
