

After Sandy...Rebuilding Must Be Done Safely

Thousands of volunteers, workers, and residents are now engaged in cleanup, recovery, and rebuilding. Unless it's done right, this process will pose serious health and safety dangers that can create a second, long-term disaster.

WEC CAN HELP

The New Jersey Work Environment Council (WEC) can provide free information and training about identifying and preventing hazards such as mold, falls, chemicals and airborne contaminants. Join us at one of the following FREE trainings sessions to learn how to prevent hazards and protect yourself from them:

Friday, October 4: 8:30 am - 1 pm

IBEW Local 400, 3301 Highway 138, Wall, NJ

Friday, October 11: 9:30 am - 2 pm

Ocean County Library, 101 Washington St., Toms River, NJ

Wednesday, October 23: 9:00 am - 1:30 pm

Newark Teacher's Union, First Floor, 1019 Broad Street, Newark, NJ

The workshops will include:

- An expert presentation on What You Need to Know to Protect Yourself from Mold, with time for questions and answers.
- Creating a hazard map to gather information so you can work towards eliminating/reducing the risks of accidents and injuries.
- An overview of worker rights, including whistleblower protection, and employer responsibilities under the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA) and NJ Public Employees OSH Act (PEOSHA).

These workshops demonstrate training that WEC can provide, completely free of charge, at your workplace for your employees and/or for volunteers.
