Congress established the Vet Center Program in 1979 out of recognition that a significant number of veterans were still experiencing readjustment problems. Vet Centers are community based and part of the Department of Veterans Affairs. In April 1991, in response to the Persian Gulf War, Congress extended the eligibility to veterans who served during other periods of armed hostilities. Those other periods of armed hostilities are identified as World War II, Korea, Lebanon, Grenada, Panama, the Persian Gulf, Somalia, Iraq and the Global War On Terrorism (GWOT). The goal of the Vet Center program is to provide a broad range of counseling, outreach and referral services FREE of charge to eligible veterans in order to help them make a satisfying post-war readjustment to civilian life. Services provided include: Individual Counseling, Group Counseling, Military Sexual Trauma Counseling, Marriage and Family Counseling, Alcohol/Drug Counseling & Referral, and Bereavement Counseling.

This weekly drop-in session held at a local arts center, uses the ancient art of handmade papermaking to help veterans heal from the physical, psychological and emotional effects of war. Participation is free to all veterans and no registration is necessary. The handmade paper is made out of old combat fatigues. Some vets use their own fatigues and others use uniforms donated by community members. The uniforms are cut into small pieces and beaten into pulp using the art center's papermaking equipment.

Shortly after World War I the American Gold Star Mothers Inc. was formed in the United States to provide support for mothers who lost sons or daughters in the war. The name came from the custom of families of servicemen hanging a banner called a Service Flag in the window of their homes. The Service Flag had a star for each family member in the United States Armed Forces. Living servicemen were represented by a blue star, and those who had lost their lives were represented by a gold star. Gold Star Mothers are often socially active but are non-political. Today, membership in the Gold Star Mothers is open to any American woman who has lost a son or daughter in service to the United States.

In 2008, The Veterans Foundation of America, Inc. ("VFA") was founded by Victor Iannelli, who served as an Airborne Infantry officer with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, North Carolina and Viet Nam. The VFA is a 501(c)(3) public charity, all donations are tax deductible. The purpose of the VFA is twofold: 1.) Provide a central repository, providing contact information on services available to veterans that are offered by governmental, nongovernmental, non-profit, or for profit organizations. Currently no such service exists making it difficult if not impossible for a veteran to easily locate the service provider/services he or she is seeking. 2.) Provide funding for those needs unfunded or inadequately funded by the government, non-government and non-profit organizations.
