Welcome to Monmouth County History

The Monmouth County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the Historical Commission welcome you to the Eighth Annual Weekend in Old Monmouth self-guided tour of historic sites. This year the tour includes more than 45 sites organized into four segments:

-  North or Yellow Tour - sites 1 - 13
-  East or Blue Tour - sites 14 - 23
-  South or Green Tour - sites 24 - 33
-  West or Red Tour - sites 34 – 44

Experience indicates that some tour followers attempt to visit as many sites as possible while others opt for a small number, often those close to home. Regarding organization, the tour places some widely separated sites in a semblance of order. Conversely, other sites are located close together. Visitors may see the sites in any order, or no order, or reverse the sequence from the proposed starting points. Three of the sub-tours begin in proximity to county borders, while the fourth, or East, begins in a population center and is readily accessible from the Garden State Parkway. In addition, the Tour Booklet points out a number of opportunities to leave the proscribed order. The suggested routes offer logical, easy-to-follow directions, but those familiar with the local landscape or possessing GPS systems may wish to use alternate roads.

We suggest making a point to visit Site 44A, the Monmouth County Historical Association Museum and Library. The Association has an incomparable, magnificent collection of Monmouth artifacts, extensive research holdings and features informative changing exhibitions on Monmouth County history. While there also visit a Monmouth County owned site, the Battle of Monmouth Monument in front of the Monmouth County Courthouse.

If you have questions, please email the Executive Director, John Fabiano at john.fabiano@co.monmouth.nj.us.

Keyport Fire Museum and Education Center
86 Broad Street
Keyport, 07735

The Keyport Fire Museum and Education Center, the only fire museum in Monmouth County, is located in the former Raritan Hose Company No. 2 building that was built in 1900 one block from the present location; it was moved in 1919. After ceasing fire service in 1969, the building was occupied for retail prior to opening as a museum in October 2003. On exhibit are a wide variety of artifacts, documents and pictures relating to fire fighting in Keyport.

The fire department in Keyport was founded as an outgrowth of an 1877 conflagration that destroyed several downtown blocks.

Burrowes Mansion Museum
94 Main Street
Matawan NJ 07747

The Burrowes Mansion, one of Monmouth County's most important early Georgian buildings, is dated by stylistic evidence to the c.1750 introduction of the Georgian style to Monmouth County when the 2 ½ story main block was begun as a Georgian three bay side-hall plan. Inference suggests that John Burrowes, Sr. (1718-1785) may have acquired the property at the time of his 1749 marriage to Widow Hope Taylor Watson (1721-1792). An earlier date attribution stems from a 1722 property sale, but this house could not be as early as the c.1723 date cited elsewhere. Burrowes was a major grain and produce merchant who was nicknamed the Corn King. His property backed on Matawan Creek, once a waterway that handled oceangoing ships when the town was the Bayshore's major port. In 1778 during the Revolution, loyalists attempted to capture Burrowes' son, John, Jr., a Continental Army captain. He escaped, but his wife was injured and the father was captured, but soon released in a prisoner exchange. The property was designated for John, Jr. in his father's will, but documentary history over the next four decades is vague until the house and 15 acres were sold to Joseph H. and Holmes Van Mater in 1825. Later the mansion was a hotel, a dentist's residence, a tea room and under the ownership of Benjamin F.S. Brown whose family retained the place until its 1974 sale to the Borough of Matawan. The Matawan Historical Society, founded in 1969, furnishes and operates the restored house, one that retains a strong character of its colonial roots.

Historic Longstreet Farm
44 Longstreet Rd.
Holmdel, NJ 07733

The sights, sounds and smells of rural Monmouth County in the 1890s have been re-created on nine acres at Longstreet Farm in Holmdel Park. Interpreters in period dress show both daily and seasonal agricultural and domestic activities common to agricultural life in the 19th century. You may find them tending animals and crops, preparing foods or using period tools.

In the 1890s, most Holmdel land was in use as productive farms; family farms averaged 80 acres. Holmdel farmers grew a variety of crops and raised animals for local use as well as New York City. The three Longstreet Family farms totaled 475 acres and were among the largest and most prosperous in Holmdel.

Fresh produce such as potatoes, apples, and corn from Longstreet Farm was served on the tables of fashionable Atlantic shore resorts, as well as the homes of the growing railroad suburbs of northern New Jersey. Canning factories as the Brakeley Cannery in Freehold preserved the harvest for months to come and enabled food to be easily shipped over long distances.

Visit Longstreet Farm and meet the animals. Explore the restored house and numerous out buildings. Discover the summer kitchen, carriage house, workshop and Dutch barn. Experience life on a Monmouth County farm as it was in the 1890s.

Holmes-Hendrickson House
62 Longstreet Road
Holmdel, NJ 07733

Holmes-Hendrickson House, built circa 1754, reflects a merger of English and Dutch style houses and is a testament to the cultural heritage of its occupants. The exterior façade and interior floor plan incorporate design characteristics inherent in both construction forms. The furnishings further indicate a blending of traditional Dutch ways with the dominant Anglican colonial culture and are representative of a prosperous farm family. Although the house no longer stands on its original site, it is a remarkable document of 18th century vernacular architecture, never having been significantly altered or converted to heat, plumbing or electricity.

Dr. Robert W. Cooke's Medical Office
67 McCampbell Road
Holmdel NJ 07733

This c.1823 Federal-influenced vernacular building is arguably the oldest medical office building in America. Note the fine detail on a simple structure. It consists of reception and examination rooms at grade and a second-story bedroom.

Cooke, who also served as Holmdel's first postmaster, 1830-1849, practiced here from 1823 until his death in 1867. Many of his medical instruments and documents are displayed on loan from the Monmouth County Historical Association and Cooke family. Take particular note of the c.1817 amputation set and a glass leech tube.

Dr. Henry Gansvoort Cooke succeeded his father here for 40 years. In 1986, Wilbur and Edith Trapp donated the building to the Holmdel Historical Society. The building, recorded by Historic American Buildings Survey and entered on the National Register of Historic Places, conveys an atmosphere of Cooke's time, an era when medical treatment was hardly an advanced science. The Holmdel Historical Society offers a modest award to anyone who can document an older separate medical office.

Joseph Murray Farmhouse
GPS: 345 Oakhill Rd.
Red Bank, NJ 07701

The farmhouse & barn are outstanding examples of Colonial middle class structures. Built C. 1770, they remain on original foundations. Simple plaster walls and brick fireplaces underestimate the sturdiness and charm of the original 5-room house. Joseph Murray, a stonemason from Ireland, and his mother arrived in 1767. Here he met and married Rebecca Morris whose family had lived in Monmouth County for several generations. They had four children, William, James, Joseph and a daughter. With the onset of the Revolutionary War, Joseph joined the local militia and was openly defiant of British rule. He earned the label of "daring, notorious rebel."

The property stayed in the possession of the Murray family until 1861. It was farmed and the house was inhabited until it was purchased in 1973 by Middletown Township at the encouragement of the Poricy Park Citizens Committee to save the land from development. The buildings were restored and Middletown Township and the Poricy Park Conservancy maintain the property.

Old First Church (Middletown Baptist)

69 Kings Highway
Middletown, NJ 07748

In 1688, the Baptist Church in New Jersey was founded on this lot. The Greek Revival edifice, the third on the site, was built in 1832 on a 1720 stone foundation. Its tall, narrow steeple fell in an 1890 storm, and was replaced with the present, shorter steeple in 1891. The visit offers costumed tours of the building and cemetery, as well as viewing of church artifacts and the unusual 1915 sanctuary windows.

On the west, the Women's Christian Temperance Union Hall, c. 1894, was sold to the church and moved from Conover St. to this site in 1908. The former Victorian-era church parsonage at 59 Kings Highway (now a private residence), stands nearby.

The large cemetery monument to former Pastor, Rev. Abel Morgan (1713 -1785), bears witness to his prominence during the American Revolutionary period. Morgan boldly led his congregation in support of the new American government, in direct opposition to the British "Enemy." In 1778, the church was taken over by the British following the Battle of Monmouth. Revolutionary War soldiers lie in the cemetery, including patriot Joseph Murray, murdered by Tories in 1780.

Middletown Baptist changed its name to Old First Church following a joint affiliation with the United Church of Christ in 1963. One block to the south via Hartshorne Place is the Middletown September 11 Memorial Gardens. The portraits and quotations on the stones of the 37 deceased help make this among the most moving monuments to that attack.

Marlpit Hall

137 Kings Highway
Middletown, NJ 07748

Marlpit Hall, built circa 1756, was home to the prominent loyalist Taylor family at the time of the Revolution. Edward Taylor endured house arrest for his political position and the family lost much of its fortune and influence. The house was restored, furnished and donated to Monmouth County Historical Association by Margaret Riker Haskell in 1936 when it became the first restored house museum in the region. Mrs. Haskell was one of the most significant collectors of Americana, notably decorative arts, in the United States. Currently it is restored to reflect Mrs. Haskell's colonial revival plan in half of the rooms and to reflect the Taylor's 18th century furnishings in the rest of the house. It is a key property in the National Register of Historic Places, Middletown Village district and is listed on the NJ Women's History Trail in honor of Mrs. Haskell's preservation work.

Taylor-Butler House

Middletown, NJ 07748

Seabrook-Wilson House, Bayshore Waterfront Park

719 Port Monmouth Rd.
Port Monmouth, NJ
07758

Taylor - Butler House was built in 1853 by later generations of Marlpit Hall's Taylor family. The family had been very successful in the China Trade out of New York and when Joseph and Mary Holmes Taylor married in 1849, they decided to move back to Middletown and build a grand house on the family farm. Here they raised their family, Edward, who became a photographer and Mary Holmes Taylor who would be the last family member to live in the house. After her death in 1930 the house stood empty until architect Henry Ludwig Kramer purchased it for his home and office. He restored the house and added indoor plumbing, replacing the two-story outhouse that had extended over the kitchen wing. In the 1950s, George and Helen Butler purchased the property and were known for their community involvement and hospitality. Monmouth County Historical Association purchased the house and 5 acres from Mr. Butler's estate in 1999.

The house, begun c.1720 by Daniel or James Seabrook, was expanded through a series of additions. After five generations of Seabrooks, the place became the home of William V. Wilson in 1855 when Wilson, preacher, farmer, and investor in steamboat companies, married into the Seabrook family. A once- isolated farm became part of an expanding village with the arrival of steamboat service and, in 1860, the Raritan & Delaware Bay Railroad, a time when Shoal Harbor was renamed Port Monmouth.

By 1967, after almost 50 years as an inn and tavern, the Township of Middletown purchased the dilapidated landmark to save it from destruction. The Shoal Harbor Marine Museum or the Spy House, occupied the building until a few years prior to the 1998 transfer of the property to the County.

The Monmouth County Park System restored the house in 2009 as the Activity Center of the 227 acre Bayshore Waterfront Park, where it now hosts nature and history programs. Exhibits were installed in 2011 about the ecology of Sandy Hook Bay, the history of the house and its ties to the greater Bayshore community.

Strauss Mansion Museum

27 Prospect Circle
Atlantic Highlands, NJ
07716

Adolph Strauss, a wealthy New York importer and merchant, erected this 21-room Queen Anne style summer cottage in 1893 designed by New York architect Solomon Cohen at the top of the town's Hill District. Here fine houses in Victorian-era styles were built after the area on Sandy Hook Bay was developed for summer recreational-spiritual purposes beginning in 1879. The house, entered on the National Register of Historic Places in 2012, is the County's only Queen Anne style house open to the public. His place features the irregular surfaces, towers, gables and dormers characteristic of the style.

The house, retained by the Strauss family until 1907, suffered in its later incarnations, including a period as an apartment, until threatened with demolition in 1980. After the Society purchased the house the next year, they undertook a massive, on-going restoration program that enabled its opening as a museum in 1986. Space put to various exhibition purposes includes period rooms, library and exhibits on the town's history. Activities include meetings on the third Wednesday, March-July and September - November, a quarterly newsletter, a plaque program for century homes, student awards and house care mutual assistance through their Older Homes Group.

All Saints Memorial Church

202 Navesink Avenue,
PO Box 326
Navesink, NJ 07752

The design of All Saints' Memorial Church, also known as the Stone Church, and its major buildings were long attributed to Richard Upjohn, a prominent architect of more than 35 Protestant Episcopal churches including Trinity Church in New York City. Recent research suggests that his son, Richard M. Upjohn, was the principal architect. Both Upjohns are recognized for their contributions to the English Gothic Revival in American architecture, of which the peanut stone All Saints' complex is a prime example.

The Church building was completed in 1864, followed by the Parish House in 1865, the Rectory and Rectory Barn in 1870, and the Carriage Sheds sometime before 1890. The cemetery, designed in English landscape style typical of the mid-19th century rural cemetery movement, features handsome monuments and mausoleums. Weekend in Old Monmouth offers a special opportunity to see the well-preserved interior of the Church, including the beautiful stained glass windows, altar, chancel rail and other original details.

Docents will be on-site to answer questions on both Saturday and Sunday. Plan on taking a break from the tour at the Parish House where home-baked treats, tea and other beverages will be available for purchase on Saturday, May 2 from 12 to 4pm.

Twin Lights State Historic Site

Lighthouse Road
Highlands, NJ 07732

In 1862 the National Historic Landmark's square and hexagonal masonry towers replaced original 1828, blue split-stone twin structures. Dual luminaries in the hills distinguished Navesink from the nearby Sandy Hook lighthouse on the shore. Decommissioned in 1949 and acquired by the State of New Jersey for a historic site in 1962, Twin Lights, in addition to its architectural stature, has been the site of numerous lighthouse and scientific firsts. The first Fresnel lens in the United States, an illuminating marvel that expanded light power enormously, was installed in 1841 in the original light station. A later Fresnel lens installed in 1898 cast a beam visible for 22 miles. Scientific landmarks include Guglielmo Marconi's successful wireless telegraph test in 1899, which led to the nation's first commercial wireless telegraph station at Navesink, one capable of sending and receiving messages on a regular basis and early radar experiments.

Sandy Hook Lighthouse & Fort Hancock

84 Mercer Road
Middletown, NJ 07732

Sandy Hook is a spectacular natural environment that has appealed to visitors for centuries. Its rich history embraces maritime, lifesaving, military, recreational and scientific roles. The Hook's prominence began with the 1764 completion of its lighthouse, the oldest standing and operating lighthouse in the United States. It can be toured daily, 1 - 4:30 p.m. Adjacent is the former keeper's residence, open daily 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Its military history starts as a strategic outpost during the Revolution when occupied by Loyalists. Early military posts reached a zenith with the 1898 opening of Fort Hancock, a coastal defense installation that for much of the 20th century was the most heavily armed fortification on the Atlantic coast, a role that ended with the 1974 deactivation of NIKE missile batteries. The exterior of fort buildings, most in desperate need of preservation, are a second self-guided tour highlight. Present at the Hook's North Beach Area is another reminder of a separate military role, a proving (testing) ground for Army guns and ordnance from 1874 to 1919. Sandy Hook's historical significance was officially recognized in 1982 when the federal government designated the entire Sandy Hook peninsula as "The Fort Hancock and Sandy Hook Proving Ground National Historic Landmark."

The beach and a variety of flora and fauna give the Hook great appeal to environmental and nature-oriented visitors.

Seabright Lawn Tennis & Cricket Club

5 Tennis Court Lane
Rumson, NJ 07760

The Seabright Tennis Club was founded in 1877 and organized the next year by a group of Seabright residents who originally played on their own estates. The original clubhouse was built in 1886 when the membership purchased the grounds for three turf courts and a cricket crease. Renwick, Aspinwall and Russell, a New York firm famous for such landmarks as St. Patrick's Cathedral and The Smithsonian Institution, designed the clubhouse, which employed elements of the Shingle and Tudor Revival styles. The clubhouse underwent extensive renovations in 1923 that included the addition of the upper balcony and an interior redesign. This is the building you see today.

The Seabright Lawn Tennis & Cricket Club, one of the oldest tennis clubs in the nation, played a long and prominent role in the development of the sport, notably by sponsorship of the famed Seabright Invitational Tournament from 1884 until 1950. In the early decades of the 20th century the Club was a major stop on the American tennis circuit and drew national and international players.

The clubhouse is decorated with 544 photographs of tennis "greats" of the period leading up to World War II. The photo collection was a gift of Bernon Prentice, club president from 1922-1938. Under the direction of club historian, Mary Lou Strong the photographic collection was restored and digitized by Barbara Bridgers of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

The clubhouse retains an aura of the late 19th century, reflects the importance of tradition and the club's proud links with the history of the sport of tennis. The club was entered on the National Register of Historic Places in 1991 and designated as a National Historic Landmark in 1992.

First Presbyterian Church

4 East River Road
Rumson, NJ 07760

This artistic, richly decorated edifice, designed by the well-known architect Thomas Hastings, was built in 1886.

The interior of Hastings' church, originally known as the Oceanic Presbyterian Church to reflect the neighborhood's name, is clad with distinctive scalloped shingles; thirty-four stained glass windows portraying Biblical scenes including four windows by Tiffany Studio of New York.

The exterior has a unique bell tower cupola with a bird house. In 1905, Hastings designed the manse that stands to the west of the corner, while Fellowship Hall, attached to the church, is a modern addition. Hastings also designed the Carriage House at 90 West River Road in the shingle style. First Presbyterian was entered on the National Register of Historic Places in 2009.

Red Bank
Woman's Club
164 Broad Street
Red Bank NJ 07701

Anthony Reckless built this fine Italianate mansion designed by Chicago architect J.P. Huber and completed in 1874, a time when upper Broad Street was lined with homes of the wealthy on extensive tracts that typically extended west to Maple Avenue. He was a merchant, publisher, utility director and president of the New York and Long Branch Railroad, the key road that helped propel Red Bank's growth. Reckless, who also served in the New Jersey Senate, died here in 1889.

The building remained a residence until the Red Bank Woman's Club, which had incorporated in 1917, purchased the property in 1921. For decades the upper floors provided residential rooms for single woman. Now the entire premises are given over to the group's public service activities. They maintain a strong focus on education, which includes literacy programs and the awarding of college scholarships.

In recent years, the club has dedicated itself to the preservation of the historic building. Thanks to grants from Monmouth County and the NJ Historic Trust, the exterior restoration was completed in 2012.

While not maintaining regular hours for tours, the building, entered on the National Register of Historic Places, is open to the public for the events cited below.

Allen House
400 Sycamore Avenue
Shrewsbury, NJ 07702

Allen House was initially built circa 1710 as a second residence for the Stillwell family of New York. Richard, a wealthy merchant, and his wife Mercy had eight children who were brought up primarily in Shrewsbury. By 1754, after Richard and Mercy had passed away, their heirs sold the property to Josiah Halstead who transformed the home into the Blue Ball Tavern, "the most noted tavern in Shrewsbury." Taverns served as community centers in the 18th century as much as places to drink and eat. The Vestry of Christ Church held meetings there as did the Shrewsbury Library Company and the Monmouth County Circuit Court. In 1779, a Loyalist party raided the tavern where Continental troops were quartered. They killed three and captured nine in what would become known as the Allen House Massacre. Today, the house is furnished to reflect its use as a colonial tavern.

Shrewsbury Religious Society of Friends (Quakers)

375 Sycamore Ave.
Shrewsbury, NJ 07702

This year through 2016, Shrewsbury Friends are celebrating the 350th Anniversary of our meeting and the 200th Anniversary of our Meeting House. Friends have met in Shrewsbury since 1685 when a group from Rhode Island and Long Island established the Shrewsbury settlement. Shrewsbury Meeting was New Jersey's first Friends Meeting and is the state's oldest rural religious congregation. The first meeting-house, built in 1672 in today's Little Silver, was visited then by Quaker founder George Fox.

Two meetinghouses have stood on this property, purchased from John Lippincott in 1689. The earlier one was destroyed by fire; this was built 1816 of wood timber construction with its walls filled by salvaged brick from the predecessor. The meetinghouse is two-cell form which affords women and men equal space for meetings and business. Movable wall panels, which separate the two, were closed for business and opened for worship and other functions. This classic Quaker design was established 1768 at Buckingham Meetinghouse, Bucks County, PA.

In 1940, the Historic American Building Survey studied and sketched the little-changed structure. After extensive fire damage to the east room in 1968, it was remodeled to provide a fellowship hall, kitchen and restrooms. The westroom, which is now used for worship, has remained unchanged since it was built.

Christ Church

380 Sycamore Ave.
Shrewsbury, NJ 07702

Christ Church, the Episcopal Parish in Shrewsbury, organized in 1702, received a charter from the King in 1738 that is on display in the church. The church, in use every Sunday, was built in 1769 to replace the small initial early 1730s structure. Numerous historic items include the 1716 "Vinegar" Bible, a communion service donated by Queen Anne in the early 18th century, an exquisite set of Gothic revival stained glass windows dating to 1867, the historic 1874 Odell tracker organ, a bell cast in France in the 18th century that still tolls the hour, and original canopy pews.

The property on which the church is situated was acquired in 1706 and has been used as a graveyard ever since. The earliest gravestone is dated 1719 and nestles against the northwest corner of the church. Touring of the church and its historic graveyard can be arranged upon request. Call the church office at 732-741-2220.

Major Events: History Day is traditionally held on the Weekend in Old Monmouth Saturday. See a special exhibit of old and rare documents

Lantern Tour, an annual first Friday in December event, is a collaborative effort with all of Shrewsbury's Four Corners historic sites. Our costumed actors tell the story of the church and describe the numerous historic objects in the church.

Woodrow Wilson Hall

400 Cedar Avenue
West Long Branch NJ
07764

Wilson Hall, completed in 1930 on the site of the former Shadow Lawn mansion, is named for the former governor of New Jersey and president of the United States, Woodrow Wilson. Wilson lived in the original mansion during the summer of 1916 while he conducted his re-election campaign. The earlier structure, built by John A. McCall in 1904, had a number of owners prior to its purchase by F.W. Woolworth president Hubert T. Parson in 1918. The present Italian Renaissance building, influenced by Versailles and designed by the office of Philadelphia architect Horace Trumbauer and primarily the responsibility of its chief designer, Julian Abele, the country's first classically trained African American architect, was completed in 1930 following the destruction by fire of the first Shadow Lawn in 1927. For many decades it held the distinction of the costliest house built in Monmouth County.

After Parson lost the house in the 1930s, the place had varied educational uses prior to the acquisition by Monmouth in 1956. The building serves as the University's administrative headquarters, while also retaining a number of classrooms. Finely restored, the building maintains a high degree of integrity to reflect the era when it represented a past era of splendor. According to the Council of Independent Colleges Historic Architecture Project, the building ranks as one of 20 American palaces financed by tremendous fortunes acquired in the late 19th & early 20th centuries. See the University's Self-Guided Tour booklet to enhance your visit. Wilson Hall, designated a National Historic Landmark in 1985, may look familiar to film viewers as it served as Daddy Warbucks' apartment in the film "Annie."

Twp. of Ocean Historical Museum

703 Deal Road
Ocean, NJ 07712

The Eden Woolley house origin, a rare Ocean Township 18th century survivor, is the 1½ story east section, which was built by Thomas Woolley on land that had been in the family since John Woolley's 1697 purchase. The house was expanded by its namesake, who in the 1830s built the 2½ story Greek Revival main block. Eden, a farmer and businessman, was active in public life as a surveyor of highways and member of the first township committee at Ocean's 1849 origins. The house, which remained in the family until 1926, was moved in 2005 from the northeast corner of Highway 35 and Deal Road.

The Township of Ocean Historical Museum, organized in 1984, previously operated a museum in the former Oakhurst School. They undertook an extensive preservation/restoration project, then opened their museum at the Eden Woolley house in 2009. Its several exhibits include the Our Town Gallery, which traces Ocean Township's history, The Hearth and Home Gallery on the Woolley family and the West Richmond Gallery's changing local history exhibits that include the township's former communities. In 2009-11, the Eden Woolley House was voted in an Asbury Park Press poll as the Best Museum in Monmouth County.

The National Guard Militia Museum of New Jersey (NGMMNJ) in Sea Girt is dedicated to preserving and explaining the military history of New Jersey. For more than 30 years the museum has collected, preserved and displayed artifacts, art and memorabilia with specific historical relevance to the Army and Air National Guard and Naval Militia of New Jersey. The museum presents the role of the New Jersey Militia and National Guard within the context of the larger history of the state, using original and reproduction uniforms, weapons, photographs, artifacts and art from the period of Dutch, Swedish and British colonization through the War for Independence, Civil War and World Wars I and II to the present day, paying particular attention to the diversity of the New Jersey citizen soldier and his or her experience. Also explore the collection of aircraft and military vehicles on the grounds opposite the building.

The NGMMNJ is located in the National Guard Training Center (NGTC) in Sea Girt at Sea Girt Avenue and Camp Drive. Adults need to show driver license or other identification to the NGTC gate guard. Admission is free.

The Museum is also the location of the Veterans Oral History Project, conducting interviews with Veterans from WW II to the present in conjunction with the Library of Congress. For more information, contact Assistant Curator Fowler.

Saint Catharine Church

214 Essex Avenue
Spring Lake, NJ 07762

St. Catharine Church is the finest high-style example of Classical Revival architecture in Monmouth County. It was built of limestone and buff Pompeian brick in 1901 by the wealthy philanthropist Martin Maloney (1847-1929) to honor the memory of his daughter Catharine who died of tuberculosis at age 17. Horace Trumbauer's (1868-1938) design was inspired by Roman renaissance and baroque sources. The cornerstone was laid March 17, 1901 and the church was consecrated on May 25, 1902. Roman artist Professor Gonippo Raggi (1875-1959) decorated the interior with over 27 paintings, both canvasses and frescos which included replicas of the masters and original work. This two-phased work was completed in 1928.

St. Catharine's two-phased restoration project 1994-2006, restored its 1928 appearance and addressed contemporary needs. EverGreene Studios of New York, guided by photographs at the Spring Lake Historical Society, completed the artwork element.

While primarily a house of worship, the approximately 4,000 family community of St. Catharine/St. Margaret Parish is grateful for the Maloney gift and their success in raising the funds to restore the beautiful church. Recognizing the museum stature of this edifice, the parish is pleased to share it with visitors. Please take and feel free to retain the detailed guide available in the church to aid your visit.

Please respect any Church events that may be in progress during a weekend visit. Visitors are invited to worship at the scheduled Masses on Saturday evening at 5 p.m. & Sunday morning at 7 a.m., 9 a.m., 10:30 a.m. & noon. Please plan your visit outside the times of scheduled weddings on Saturday at noon, 2 p.m., & 3:45 p.m.

The Great Auditorium

21 Pilgrim Pathway
P.O. Box 248
Ocean Grove, NJ
07756

Methodists founded Ocean Grove, one of several camp meeting communities, in the post-Civil War religious revival period. The site was chosen for its elevation and absence of mosquitoes. They held the first prayer meeting here on July 31, 1869.

The various structures that served for open air preaching that were important to the movement included a "Preachers Stand" in a tree grove (1870) and a 75 by 100-foot tree bough-clad roof structure which by 1876 had a 3,000 seat amphitheatre. The massive Great Auditorium, which was designed by Frederick T. Camp of New York and covers nearly six-sevenths of an acre, was built in 1894 over 92 working days. At 225 feet long and 161 feet wide, with a 55-foot high ceiling and a 131-foot east tower, the Great Auditorium is one of the most important structures in Monmouth County and the largest wood frame building in New Jersey. While worship is a key activity, Ocean Grove has been a venue for major figures in the worlds of spirituality, public life and music. Its massive Hope Jones organ, built in 1907 and one of the country's finest instruments, is played for free summer recitals. The entire town is a National Register Historic District.

Centennial Cottage

McClintock & Central Avenues
Ocean Grove, NJ 07756

Erected in 1884 by the Fell Family, the cottage stood at 47 Cookman Ave. Acquired by Robert Skolds in 1969, it was donated to the Camp Meeting Association, a gift coinciding with Ocean Grove's centennial. Visitors see a glimpse of 19th century Ocean Grove life.

The cottage, moved nine blocks to McClintock and Central Avenue is maintained as a museum house by the Historical Society of Ocean Grove with financial assistance from visitor donations, the Robert E. and Mary S. Skold Centennial Cottage Fund and from the Monmouth County Historical Commission.

Centennial Cottage was termed a "Swiss Chalet" as it was freely adapted from the traditional alpine farm- house. The chalet was one of several building forms associated with the "Stick Style" which was popular from the 1860's to 1890's. The pointed arch on the facade of the cottage is a remnant of the earlier gothic Revival Style from which the Stick Style evolved.

Old Wall

1701 New Bedford
Road
Wall, NJ 07719

The Allgor/Barkalow Homestead is a 10 room farmhouse C. 1800. It was the home of James Layton Allgor and Ellen Smith Allgor and their family. Mr. Allgor was postmaster, wreck master and Township committeeman of Wall. He ran the New Bedford General Store from one of the front rooms (1830-1844). It has been restored to the 1830's era with furniture and displays pertaining to Wall. An interesting vintage clothing (1860-1920) collection is a favorite. There are four outbuildings; a summer kitchen, a 3-seater outhouse, a smokehouse, and a pole barn. The homestead also houses the Genealogy Research Library.

The Blansingburg Schoolhouse Museum is a one room schoolhouse built in 1855. It was in use from 1856-1935. Moving it to this site in 1999 was quite a project. The tin walls, ceiling, wainscoting and black- board were still intact. It was restored and furnished with old desks (some original), books and memorabilia. It is used twice a week for teaching Wall's 2nd grade students. Girls in their pinafores and boys in suspenders are taken back to the 1800's to do math on chalkboards and read from McGuffey's readers.

MacKenzie House

427 Lakewood Farmingdale Road. Howell NJ 07731

The core of the MacKenzie House is believed to be a small “settler’s cabin,” a modest structure that was added to over the years. This house is symbolic of the agricultural and milling history of the township. The nearby grist mill once part of this tract was likely built by Obadiah Allen who bought property in this locale in 1767 and retained it until 1809. His successor, James Lloyd was sheriff and a member of family active in political life. The mill passed through numerous owners throughout the 19th century, while more than one likely added to the house. James and Jessie MacKenzie, who acquired the property in 1956, were the last private owners as a MacKenzie donated the house to the township in 1982. The Howell Historical Society undertook a preservation program for the 10 room house, included a research library and added artifacts, all part of their public exhibition and education programs.

Third grade classes in the Howell Township Public School System tour both the MacKenzie House and the Ardena Public School No. 2 as part of their curriculum on local history.

Ardena School Museum

Old Tavern Road Howell NJ 07731

The Ardena School Museum is a survivor from and a reminder of the era when the sprawling rural township of Howell had 11 one-room schools. Its standing in the Squankum area followed the post educational travels of the building.

An earlier, smaller Ardena School built on the north side of the present County Route 524 east of Vanderveer Road was replaced in 1855 by this building, which served for instructional purposes until the large, fine Colonial Revival contemporary Ardena School was opened in 1939. When no longer needed as a school, this building was sold and moved to an East Freehold location where it was adaptively used as a woodworker-cabinetmaker’s shop. The Howell Historical Society purchased the building in 1973 and moved it back to Howell, placing it at a location opposite the municipal hall.

The Society has refitted the former school with furnishings and old educational materials that suggest the challenges of learning under the primitive conditions of the one-room school era, such as heat from a stove, an outhouse for a rest room and, prior to electric service, illumination from natural light, oil lamps or candles. A variety of historical displays, including photographs and memorabilia, depict much more of this spread-out school system in Monmouth’s largest municipal territory, a township that still contains reminders of its agrarian past. In brief, nineteenth century education is replicated.

Historic Walnford

62 Walnford Rd.
Upper Freehold Twp.,
NJ 08514

Located in Upper Freehold Township, Historic Walnford is the former mill village once owned by the Waln family. Now the centerpiece of Crosswicks Creek Park, the 36 acre site is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Walnford reveals the region's changing economy over three centuries through exhibits, hands-on activities and programs, staff interpretation and guided tours.

The village began in 1734 with the gristmill. A 1772 newspaper advertisement caught the eye of Richard Waln, a prosperous merchant trader and Philadelphia Quaker. He purchased the property, including the gristmill, sawmill, fulling mill, blacksmith and cooper's shops, farm, a two-family home and much more. Naming it Walnford, he moved in with his wife and children in June 1774, upon completion of their elegant home.

The property remained in the family until its 1973 sale to Edward and Joanne Mullen, who after occupying the place as their residence, donated Walnford to the Monmouth County Park System in 1985.

Remaining historic buildings include the 1774 Waln House, the largest pre-Revolutionary home remaining in Monmouth County and Waln's Mill, which following reconstruction after an 1872 fire, represented the peak of stone grinding grist mill design. Restored in 1998, the mill depicts a 19th century industry in operation, grinding corn into meal on weekends from April through November.

Old Yellow Meeting House

70 Yellow Meeting House Road.
Upper Freehold Twp.,
NJ 08514

Tradition states that Baptist worship began on this site c.1720 while this church was built c.1737 which makes it the oldest house of worship structure in Monmouth County. Three nearby Baptist churches are outgrowths of this congregation which relocated to Imlaystown in 1855, when this edifice fell into disuse. The cemetery, which remained active, is an often cited historical part of Upper Freehold Township's history and merits a visit in its own right.

The abandoned, deteriorated building was rescued from destruction by the Friends of the Old Yellow Meeting House, a nonprofit corporation organized for that purpose in 1975, a year when National Register of Historic Place listing was secured. The results of their project have preserved a simple interior that will readily remind the visitor of an ancient house of worship. While no longer used for active worship, at least two services are conducted annually as noted below. The adjacent former rectory is not open on the tour. While visiting, walk around the cemetery for a fine insight into old funerary practice.

Roosevelt
Borough
(Jersey Homesteads)
Historic District
2 A School Lane
Roosevelt NJ 08555

Roosevelt was founded as a W.P.A.-sponsored resettlement community, one of over 100 nationwide, that was organized during the Great Depression to serve New York Jewish garment workers. Construction, which began in 1934, was followed in 1936 by the arrival of the first residents. The next year, the 1.93 acre community formed inside Millstone and initially known as Jersey Homesteads, separated from that township and incorporated as a borough; its name was changed in 1945 to honor recently deceased president Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The town, constructed with Bauhaus-influenced buildings designed by Alfred Kastner and Louis Kahn which gave it a uniform appearance, laid out with a plan incorporating interior and exterior greenbelts along "garden city" designs of Ebenezer Howard, were crucial factors in National Register historic designation of the entire town. The population was known from its beginnings for strong community activism and a passion for the arts. Many artists have resided here, most notably Ben Shahn who painted the mural inside the elementary school. His son Jonathan sculpted the head of the president dedicated in 1962 and located in the adjoining park. The address is the school's where the Shahn mural is exhibited.

Village Inn
Two Water Street
Englishtown, NJ 07726

The oldest part of the Village Inn may date c. 1726 when it was first occupied as a tailor shop. The name and the building's historic stature stems from its longer and better known role as a tavern, an occupancy dating from 1762 during the colonial era when taverns were social centers and legally mandated for the accommodation of travelers.

The building had been known as the Davis Inn for Moses Davis, tavern keeper in the time of the Battle of Monmouth and a member of the local militia. While historians have long-believed that Gen. George Washington used the inn during the Battle of Monmouth and for his court-martial of General Charles Lee, other historians question this and believe more research is needed to establish that the events took place here and not in the other inn then in town. The c.1815 two-story expansion gave the building its present appearance. The Inn was maintained as a tavern until 1978.

Entered on the National Register of Historic Places in 1972, the Village Inn was threatened with destruction prior to its purchase by the Battleground Historic Society in 1978. The Society, assisted by Borough of Englishtown and Community Development Funds, restored the Inn for interpretation as a colonial tavern.

Old Tennent Church

450 Tennent Road
Tennent, NJ 07763

In 2015, Old Tennent Presbyterian Church celebrates the 323rd anniversary of the 1692 log church built by a small group of Scottish Presbyterians at Free Hill in present Marlboro. The church relocated here to White Hill in 1731 and built a small church on land granted by King George II. William Tennent, Jr., who began his 44-year pastorate in 1733 succeeding his brother John, built the present edifice in 1751, a substantial house of worship that has been host to many famous visiting clergy including George Whitfield, Jonathan Edwards, David Brainerd and Jacobus Frelinghuysen. Note the raised pulpit and box pews.

The building was damaged by shell fragments during the Battle of Monmouth when used as a field shelter for the wounded. Some of the dead from both sides are buried in the church cemetery, which contains a number of notables to Monmouth history and a variety of stones and monuments. (While not a part of the tour, the National Register Old Scots Burying Ground on Gordon's Corner Road, Marlboro, near the site of the church's founding, merits a visit.) Old Tennent adopted its present name in 1920 after being alternately known as Old Scots Church, the Presbyterian Church of Monmouth County, the Presbyterian Church of Freehold and the First Presbyterian Church of the County of Monmouth.

Monmouth Battlefield State Park

16 Business Route 33
Manalapan, NJ 07726

The Battle of Monmouth, fought June 28, 1778, was one of the largest, longest and most significant battles of the American Revolution. The conflict, which began when Continental forces attacked part of a massive British army removing from Philadelphia to New York via a march across New Jersey, involved over the course of a hot day numerous clashes among parts of the respective armies. While at the end of the day, the fight on the field was essentially a draw, the battle was a major political victory and morale booster because General Washington and his improved forces were able to hold their own against the British. The battle marked the end of the war's formal fighting in the north. See the original of the Leutze painting "Washington at Monmouth" at site 44A.

Much of the battlefield is protected by the nearly 3,000 acre State Park, which through on-going preservation efforts is shaping the landscape to restore the old environment. There are two sites to visit in the Battlefield Park, interpreted by Park Personnel and by the Friends of Monmouth Battlefield. The new (2013) Visitor Center, located on Business Rt. 33 west of Rt. 9, features exhibits, a 10 minute movie and a Gift Shop. There will be a walking tour of the Battlefield at 1:30 p.m. both days (meet at visitor center). There will be a Bird Walk at 8 a.m. on Saturday, also starting at the Visitor Center.

The Historic 1740 Craig House will be open on Saturday from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. and Sunday from 11a.m. - 4 p.m. It is located about three miles from the Visitors Center, off Rt. 9 North at Schibanoff Road.

Oakley Farm House

189B Oakley Drive
Freehold, NJ 0772

The Walker Combs Hartshorne Farmstead, known as the Oakley Farm for its last owners, reflects three centuries the township's agrarian roots. The site of the regularly-expanded house amidst outbuildings suggests a working farm. The origins appear to be an 8 by 10 foot cabin built at an unknown date, perhaps in the first quarter of the 18th century; the date of its earliest expansion is also unknown.

The first name- sake owner, George Walker, bought the place in 1720; in 1801, his descendents sold to Elijah Combs who farmed 240 acres and likely gave the house its present appearance. The Hartshornes were descendents of Richard, who was among Monmouth's earliest settlers and a major 17th century figure in Middletown. A branch of the family later settled in Freehold. The first of the family here, Richard S. Hartshorne, Sr., who bought the place in 1842, was succeeded in 1873 by his son Acton, an important member of the Monmouth bar who in time leased the farm, and then sold it to Charles Oakley, Jr. in 1911. The Township of Freehold bought a 6 acre property from an Oakley in 1997. While the Oakley Farm House, entered on the National Register in 1990, has a fascinating chain of title, its appeal is the simplicity of the large house set among surviving outbuildings

Jewish Heritage Museum of Monmouth County

310 Mounts Corner Dr.
Freehold, NJ 07728

Dedicated to the promotion of public awareness of the County's Jewish heritage for the education and enjoyment of all, the museum fulfills this mission by a variety of exhibitions, cultural programs and publications that celebrate, preserve, explore and illustrate the history and contribution to the Community of Monmouth's Jewish residents.

The museum is located in the second story (over retail at grade) of an early 19th century barn once part of the farm of Levi Solomon. Notable are its post and beam construction, the restored interior water tank and original hay fork. The space was dedicated to historical use by Bernard Hochberg by a long-term lease as part of a land use agreement with the Township of Freehold, while the Jewish Federation of Monmouth County provided initial support. The site has been designated as a local landmark by the Freehold Township Historic Preservation Commission.

West Freehold School Museum
209 Wemrock Road
Freehold, NJ 0772

The West Freehold School, earlier known as the West Freehold Seminary and Collegiate Institute, was built in 1847 on a small piece of the Walker-Combs-Hartshorne Farm (later Oakley) when the area was known as the Freehold Corner District. The building which educated what was later numbered District 11, was occupied for instructional use until a 1936 township school consolidation.

Owned by the Township of Freehold, the building is operated for historical interpretation by the Freehold Township Historic Preservation Commission. While the Commission has traced ownership to the late 17th century, this lot was deeded by Rulif R. Schanck, the source of a nickname "the Old Schanck School" to school trustees Samuel Conover, William W. Thompson and John H. Mount June 8, 1847 as recorded in Deed Book E5, page 336.

Freehold Township takes special pride in its educational history as it holds the distinction of owning two former one room schools, the other District 9 named for the Georgia neighborhood. Other 19th century schools with their district number included: East Freehold No.6, Freehold No. 7, Paradise No.8, Siloam No. 10, Thompsons Grove No. 12 and Aumack No. 13. The Freehold Commission's research indicates an enrollment of about 500 towards the end of the 19th century. Since then the district, after the departure of the Borough of Freehold schools, has grown into one of the County's largest.

The Georgia Road School and House (ca. 1862), located at the corner of Jackson Mills and Georgia Roads, will be open during the Weekend in Old Monmouth.

Covenhoven House
150 West Main Street
Freehold, NJ 07728

Covenhoven House, built by a wealthy Dutch farmer, architecturally reflects the emergence of the Georgian style, which is also symbolic socially for the blend of Dutch culture into the prevailing English. A fine state of preservation, distinctive interior finishing and informative interpretive programs of the Association make Covenhoven a compelling visit.

William A. Covenhoven and wife Elizabeth Van Cleef reflected their inherited wealth through the acquisition of land and of an impressive home.

Among the house's interior appointments are finely detailed paneling on major fireplace walls, cupboards with glazed doors and carved shell bonnets and painted woodwork decoration in the master bedroom. The house's long reference as Freehold's outstanding residence has brought it numerous names in historical literature, notably: General Clinton's Headquarters for his occupancy prior to the Battle of Monmouth, the Hankinson and Moreau house for significant later owners.

Monmouth County Historical Association Headquarters houses its Museum and Library & Archives in a building designed by J. Hallam Conover and built on land donated by member David Vanderveer Perrine. The elegant colonial revival brick structure was loosely based on Mt. Vernon. It opened on October 6, 1931 to a crowd of 300. The library and archives contain extensive holdings of print, documentary, historical and genealogical materials. Museum exhibitions draw from a rich permanent collection augmented by loans.

Currently on display are “Beautiful Childhood: Portraits from the Permanent Collection” as well as the permanent exhibition “The Battle of Monmouth” and the stunning Leutze painting “Washington at Monmouth.” Children enjoy hands-on activities in the Discovery Room to learn about life in historic Monmouth County and pose for a photograph in period clothing from “Picture Yourself.”

Battle of Monmouth
Monument

71 Court St.
Freehold, NJ 07728

The monument is the most visible symbol of the crucial Revolutionary War battle that began near here and took place over a wide local area on June 28, 1778. A major part of the battlefield, tour site no. 39, is a National Historic Landmark. The long campaign to secure a suitable memorial was begun around 1850 when public monuments were not common- place. Its success was attained through local fundraising, contributions by the State of New Jersey and the federal government and the donation of the park property by the Daniel Schanck family. After its cornerstone was laid on the June 28, 1878 centennial of the battle, the monument was dedicated in a major celebration on November 13, 1884.

The statue of Quincy granite atop the 90-foot column was replaced after being struck by lightning in 1894. A bust of the original is mounted adjacent to the Hall of Records Annex two blocks to the south. Noteworthy are the James Edward Kelly sculpted bas reliefs of five Revolutionary scenes surrounding the column’s base and the seals of the thirteen colonies.

The Monmouth County Historical Commission

The Monmouth County Historical Commission is the County agency established to promote preservation and an appreciation of the County's history. The Commission's major activities, in addition to the Weekend in Old Monmouth tour, are threefold:

- A Preservation Grant program is offered for historic structures owned by municipalities and non-profit organizations. It is a one-for-one matching program for brick and mortar type projects. Applications for each year's programs are solicited in July for a November 1st deadline.
- A Preservation Awards program recognizes any property owner's achievements in preserving historic structures in Monmouth County. Among eligible applicants are private homeowners, commercial buildings, institutional buildings and others of virtually any type.
- A Fifth Grade Essay Contest permits any fifth grade Monmouth student to write about historic sites in the County that the student has visited or an event/person in family history important to the student.

See us on the web at www.visitmonmouth.com, clicking Departments on the top of the home page, then Historical Commission in the list of departments. More information about the aforementioned programs may be found there.

The Commission participates in Archives Day, a history fair sponsored by the Monmouth County Clerk and Archives to be held October 11 at the County Library Headquarters on Symmes Road, Manalapan. Visit us there.

The Commission participates in the Spirit of the Jerseys State History Fair at Monmouth Battlefield State Park, held May 9. We encourage your visit to this outdoor event where exhibitions and activities of many statewide organizations will give you new appreciation of New Jersey's rich history.
